1. The PCI Federation of Milan has issued the following orders to members who are called up by the Army:
 - a) Members must present themselves to their respective Party headquarters before departing.
 - b) PCI membership cards and other PCI documents will be taken from them.
 - c) Upon reaching the place of a military assignment, members will report to the PCI headquarters to receive further instructions.
 - d) The headquarters of the point of departure will forward membership cards and documents to the place of assignment.
 - e) The member will receive moral and material aid and explanation of his future activity of the new headquarters.
 - f) The Communist military member must communicate all information of a military nature, i.e.: personnel in the detachment to which assigned, and in other detachments known to the member; names of commanders and officers; armament, and deployment. At the same time selected members will be called to carry out a campaign of PCI propaganda.
 - g) The PCI member in service should not disclose his membership in the Party, and must not keep in his possession any incriminating document.
